

It is with great pleasure that I announce the promotion of Kari Palmieri from Vice President to President, DataText Event Services Inc..

Kari's dedication to all aspects of ensuring the success of DataText has been evident from her first days with the company in 2011. The wealth of experience that Kari provides to DataText and our industry is respected by both our clients and our staff. When things need to be done onsite or in an administrative manner, Kari has always stepped up to make things work.

As a result of this promotion, Tom Newberry will take the title of CEO of DataText Event Services Inc.

Both Kari and myself will continue to manage the day to day and long-term operations of DataText with Kari's priority to keep the CEO focused on her priorities!

I am proud to make this announcement and promotion of Kari, who is not only a partner in business but also my good friend.

Please join me in congratulating Kari at kari@datatext-event.com
