

Overview:

The CAEM Auxiliary Membership category is defined as former Exposition and Designated Associate Members who have been members of CAEM but are no longer employed in the industry but would like to remain involved in the association. The Board of Directors approves the membership applications and determines policy on conditions and qualifications. Members must re-apply annually to be accepted in this membership category and the Board must approve all applications. Auxiliary Members cannot hold office and cannot vote.

Eligibility:

- Auxiliary Members must have been an Exposition Member or an Associate Member Designated Representative of CAEM in good standing within the past calendar year.
- To be eligible, members must have been laid off, furloughed or terminated within the past year.
- This membership category is not available to members or potential members who are actively employed in the exposition and events industry

Terms:

- Auxiliary Memberships will not be prorated. Members must pay the full fee regardless of the month they join.
- Membership applications must be submitted on forms provided by CAEM.
- Auxiliary Members who have paid their membership dues for the current year may attend any CAEM event at the member rate and may serve on Committees subject to the standard Board approval process.
- Auxiliary Members will receive all member communications; have member access to the online directory and be listed in the online directory, unless otherwise requested.
- Should an Auxiliary Member be re-employed in the exhibitions and events industry, they must inform the CAEM office within 15 days of employment to convert their Auxiliary Membership to the applicable Expo or Associate Membership category and the pay balance of membership dues owing for the fiscal year.

Please complete the form that follows and return to the CAEM office by email at info@caem.ca.
